   iii. Price Center will have to go into minimal operation if there are no changes.
   iv. Ryan: What is UCEN trying to do to dig themselves out of debt? Reducing hours, cutting down staff and raising the student fee.
Meeting Minutes

v. Jennifer: Is there an option they are looking at? Raising student fees.

vi. Trinh: Is there a way to increase rent? The leases have been signed for the year, but the budget needs to be approved to the upcoming year. The rent isn’t a huge portion of the budget.

vii. The Che Collective needs to be removed from the facility, it does not meet standards. Discussing raising the student fee to repair the building. The fee increase would be less than five dollars, but would not guarantee The Che a space.

viii. Audrey: Has UCEN considered putting all money to PC and not The Che? In the language the money can be put all to a specific location.

ix. Jennifer: Does that mean the $5 fee would be added continuously just to repair the Che this one year? That’s what it appears to be.

x. Joey: The current UCAB Chair is against doing anything for the Che right now. What is your opinion on it? UCAB is very student centered.

xi. How does Warren College feel about a small fee exchange?
   1. Yes: 2
   2. No: 27
   3. Abstain: 5

xii. Porters Pub lease is expiring May 2015. Lots of problems with it and complaints. Limiting student use in the area. Was intended as a food and beverage place. UCEN agreed to extend lease to facility in the back.

xiii. Nishi: If we didn’t renew the lease who would be in control of Porter’s Pub? It would return to University Centers xiv. Marissa: Send me an email if you see this. Include where.

xv. Joey: If Porter’s Pub ceases to exist on campus would it be able to be used for student events more? You would go through One Stop like any other reservation.

xvi. The stage is a student fee funded space. Their rent has stayed the same with or without the stage. Would probably increase the rent if given back to them.

xvii. Ryan: Feels you can’t get that “bar” feeling anywhere else on campus. Feels the restaurant and bar area serves a purpose, despite the management. Doesn’t see a reason to not renew the lease unless you don’t like to management.

xviii. Eddy: The uniqueness of Porter’s is their ability to track well-known artists for a low price.

xix. Porter’s does charge a lower price because they do use a lot of their space for free, but UCEN has been impacted by that.

xx. Jennifer: Is it possible for them to get sponsored by a larger corporation? They have sufficient funding on their own, the main problem is their lease is expiring and they have a lot of compliance issues and we are wondering whether or not to renew the lease with them with or without the stage.

xxi. Jack: Would they be able to have a requirement to give preferences to organizations?

xxii. There are not many consequences except to terminate the lease.

xxiii. Straw Poll:
   1. Renew lease including stage: 31
   2. Renew lease without stage: 4
   3. Not renew the lease: 1

xxiv. Any suggestions about price center? Will most likely renew the lease with Round Table?

xxv. Mili: Chipotle

xxvi. Anthony: Korean BBQ

b. Feedback on Speed-Friending Event – Akshata M Rohra
