X. Open Forum
   a. Winter Chill Committee Charter
   b. UCEN Fee Referendum
      i. $76.50 fee charged to every student every quarter to help upkeep of UCEN. Does not have CPI increase. Debt obligations we need to pay back, roughly $2.5 million each year. If there is no fee increase, UCEN will take drastic changes to maintain operation, including minimal operating hours or possibly reduced weekend operation. A lot of deferred maintenance, critical to the building’s safety and operation. Two versions of the referendum. One is $14 increase with 2% CPI increase, other is a $18.70 with 2% CPI increase with a line to renovate the Che Cafe. Both cases will bring us to a healthy amount of reserves.
      ii. Will bring us $1.4 million by year three. We have been talking with VCSA to get a loan from student affairs to start renovations as soon as a referendum as passed. The $4.70 that goes to the Che will be dropped after year three.
      iii. Daniel: Is this a one-time fee or an ongoing one? The fee has an increase of 2.9% for interest per year.
      iv. Daniel: The deferred maintenance was because we didn’t have enough money, what about the maintenance we are doing now? They are urgent and required to keep the facilities open.
      v. Jesslyn: $18.70 that will go down after 3 years, the other one is the $14, and the other option is no referendum. Without an increase, PC would have to go to minimal operations.
      vi. Audrey: If the 18.70 were to be added, would the Che automatically be able to use that space? It would be open to other orgs to apply to have to space.
      vii. Daniel: Would there be a way to make it more transparent to see that this will increase to $112 by year 12? There are certain restrictions about our content in the referendum, but I will bring it up to UCAB.
      viii. Jeffrey: Did they take into account new revenue in PC? The revenue we get from the venues in PC is only a fraction of the budget, the most significant contribution to the budget are the student fees we collect. Want to respect student’s desire to not turn PC into a mall and keep it a student space.
      ix. Jesslyn: Thinks it’s appealing that the space is not only for the Che but an open space to other student orgs. Heard that some of the fee would go to the printers and computers in PC, ACMS has stopped supporting them.
      x. If you want the details on what the fee goes to, they are in bullet point format. Provides for student org tech funding. Increasing to $500 per year per org.
      xi. Ryan: What seems most important is that a referendum is passed. Would prefer to see the one for the Che Cafe would pass, but thinks it’s unlikely for students to be receptive to it. Leaning more toward $14 referendum language because UCEN is not in a pleasant situation.

xii. Move to extend time by 5 minutes: Akinchita Kumar xiii. Seconds: Mili Parikh
xiv. PBC
xv. Akinchita: How soon are these things going to be implemented; we hear about renovations to PC but we never see them. Jesslyn, can you brief us on the pros and cons discussed in AS?
      1. Luke: No deadline put, but hoping to get support for computers and printers.

2. Jesslyn: AS had a straw poll leaning toward a referendum but not either one. Also if the Che Cafe is a line item, it’s hundreds of thousands of dollars to the Che. If we build our reserves, it would hopefully allow for less deferred maintenance xvi. Christian: Thinks it’s important to have both options on the ballot. Though the che is a minority, they are very active xvii. Daniel: If there is the $14 increase, will the Che ever get repaired? It depends on the priority in 10 years xviii. Jesslyn: Would say it’s not too hopeful that it would ever get repaired if there is the 14 dollar option. Other buildings have priority. Proponent of other facilities like the Che and the Craft center because it is important to have unique parts of campus that we are starting to lose.

xix. Move to extend discussion by 5 minutes: Ryan Huyler

xx. Seconds: Christian Walker

xxi. PBC

xxii. Luke: Straw Poll
   1. $14: 27
   2. $18.70: 12
   3. No Referendum: 0

xxiii. Ryan: With the referendum coming up it is important to encourage students to actually vote, because this is something to actually care about.

xxiv. Luke: If you have been to PC in the past year, there have been very minor changes. No one has experiences minimal operations, and you probably don’t want to experience it.

xxv. At year 8 the debt obligations for PC West will be done, so that part of the fee will be decreased.
